Annual Meeting Held April 17

The Annual Meeting of the Appomattox County Development Corporation was held on Wednesday, April 17th, at Jeanne's Coffee Shop.

Mr. Lowe, a native of Weslaco, Texas, joined Armstrong Cork Company in 1955 and has held a number of positions prior to accepting his present position with Thomasville Furniture, an Armstrong subsidiary. He gave a brief history of the company and stated that they were pleased with the progress being made on the plant here in Appomattox. The Appomattox plant, according to Lowe, will really be two plants in one . . . in one wing they will make furniture parts that will be stored in the high-part of the building and in the other wing the parts will be assembled into the furniture and finished with a small warehouse in part of the building. For every one man working in the first part of the operation, there will probably be three men working in the second part, finishing the furniture.

Mr. Lowe expressed the warm feeling TFI has for the Town of Appomattox and thee people they have met thus far, and said that they are not sorry to have chosen Appomattox for their new furniture plant.

Married to the former Naomi Hunt of White Plains, NY, they are the parents of two children. The Lowe family will be moving to Appomattox later on and they look forward to being a part of this community.

FFA Alumni Formed

An organizational meeting of the Appomattox County FFA Alumni Association was held in the Appomattox Intermediate School Auditorium on the evening of Tuesday April 16. Twenty-one former FFA members were in attendance and voted to officially begin operation of a local FFA Alumni Association in the Appomattox area.

Ralph Reynolds, who was elected temporary chairman of the meeting, briefly discussed what action had been taken at a planning session on March 26. The group then heard from Billy Slagle who reported on a proposed constitution. The question of dues was then presented and were set at $10.00 annually. The next order of business was election of an executive council to serve as governing body for the organization. Those elected to this council were Ralph Reynolds, John Alvis, Billy Slagle, Ben Wheeler, and W. E. Bondurant.

At the close of the meeting all twenty-one persons attending signed the charter and became members of the Appomattox County FFA Alumni Association. It is hoped that all former FFA members who wish to join the Alumni Association will stop by the Agriculture Education Department at the high school and sign the charter. May 26 was set as the last date to sign the charter.

The members of the newly formed Appomattox FFA Alumni Association feel that there is a need for a better understanding of Agriculture Education and the FFA, they can help to inform the general public of the important role which Agriculture plays in our national life. They also feel that few organizations in this country offer as much to youth as does the FFA. Any former active or honorary FFA members who believe in what the FFA has to offer the youth of this county are encouraged to become Alumni members and to take part in the Appomattox Association.
